Serving On:

Work Experience: After finishing my Ph.D. work in pharmacology, I worked as a developmental editor for Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory Press (New York) from 1/1999 through 9/2000. I then worked as a Senior Research Associate for Amgen, Inc. in Seattle, WA, from 9/2000 through 11/2002. I moved to Carrboro with my husband at the end of 2002 and resumed my work as an editor for Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory Press.

Volunteer Experience: I am a member of the childcare committee at the Community Church of Chapel Hill, Unitarian Universalist. Over the past year, I have helped implement a new Sunday school curriculum for the pre-schoolers and have worked to maintain and improve the infant/toddler program. I am also a member of the Charles M. Jones Peace and Justice Committee at the Community Church. Through my work with that group, I have helped organize lecture series and other special events to engage the congregation in working for peace and social justice. I have volunteered for various social outreach activities, including building with Habitat for Humanity, collecting Christmas donations for needy families, and participating in outreach fundraisers. I also volunteer in various capacities at my son's preschool and at Seawell Elementary, where my daughter is a kindergartner.

Education: I graduated from Jersey Village High School in Houston, TX (1989). I have a B.A. in Chemistry and German from Rice University (1993) and a Ph.D. in Molecular and Cellular Pharmacology from the State University of New York (SUNY) at Stony Brook (1998).

Remarks: I live in the recently annexed area of Carrboro, so I am a Carrboro citizen despite my house's Chapel Hill address. I have closely followed the story of the Rogers Road neighborhood and its relationship with the regional landfill and the proposed waste transfer station, and I am familiar with the history of the area. I like to understand the big picture of situations, but I am also very detail-oriented. I believe strongly in the power of process, and I would work very hard to accurately gauge the needs of the Rogers Rd community and how those needs fit with what the County can directly or indirectly provide. STAFF COMMENTS: Originally applied for the Rogers Road Community Enhancement and Monitoring Task Force 5/3/2007. ADDRESS VERIFICATION: 1009 Tallyho Trail is in the Carrboro City limits.

Work Experience: I am a professional technical writer and documentary photographer. I have completed several projects about the Orange County area, including "Fotos del Pueblo" about the emergence of the Hispanic Community in the County and "Celebration 2000, the documentation of the Habitat for Humanity project on Rogers Rd.

Volunteer Experience: I have volunteered with the NC Writere Network where I coordinated the Prison Pen Pal project, a project that connects professional writers with incarcerated writers. I continue to work with the Prison Writing Project through the Paul Green Foundation. I have also volunteered at the Carrboro ArtsCenter, WCOM radio, the Paul Green Theatre, the Carolina Theatre and Deep Dish Theatre.

Education: I have a PhD in comparative literature. The most practical side of this is 1) skill in public speaking and presentations and 2) Spanish Language

Remarks: I am interested in the Rogers Road taskforce as the owner of a property on the Road that includes a home built by the Rogers Family in the 1930's. Through the purchase of this land, we have come to know many members of the community. I also feel that my skill as a writer, I'm fast and clear, could be an asset to a committee charged with producing a report on a complex issue in a short timeframe.. STAFF COMMENTS: Originally applied for the Rogers Rd Community Enhancement Monitoring Task Force. ADDRESS VERIFICATION: 119 Viburnum Way is in the Carrboro City limits in the Chapel Hill Township.
