Tim Peck of Transition Carrboro/Chapel Hill requested in-kind use of the Century Center at the September 1, 2009 Board of Aldermen meeting. At that time the Board requested that staff review the proposal and provide a response.

Transition Carrboro/Chapel Hill is a volunteer organization that is seeking to build community resilience in consideration of the global challenges of peak oil and climate change. The efforts of the organization represents a way of engaging people in the community against the effects of these challenges, resulting in a life that is more abundant, fulfilling, equitable and socially connected. They envision the outcome of this event being the emergence of awareness and a new direction, ideas and energy that will inspire the community to positively transition to a new era. The steering committee is still in the process of planning for this event. More about the organization and the transition movement is available using the following links:
